DETAILED ACTION

Information Disclosure Statement

The IDS filed 2/17/05 has been considered and placed of record. However, the application serial number listed does not match the inventor name listed. Moreover, the cited application has nothing to do with battery and/or in the related art area.

Clarification is needed.

Specification

The disclosure should be carefully reviewed to ensure that any and all grammatical, idiomatic, and spelling or other minor errors are corrected.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claims 1-4, 6, 9-17 and 19-21 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Gold (US 5,898,294). The reference discloses a battery pack 104 having battery cell stacks 102 and switching means 110, 118 for interrupting the flow of charge in/out of the battery pack. A switching control port and switching circuitry (126) for receiving signal from a battery pack port (pack+) and selectively coupled the battery cell stack to the output power port (bat+). A sensor (not shown) is part of the pack protection circuitry (112) for decouple (110) the stack based on the feedback of the sensor. Typical criteria for the sensors are voltage, current and/or temperature.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

This application currently names joint inventors. In considering patentability of the claims under 35 U.S.C. 103(a), the examiner presumes that the subject matter of the various claims was commonly owned at the time any inventions covered therein were made absent any evidence to the contrary. Applicant is advised of the obligation under 37 CFR 1.56 to point out the inventor and invention dates of each claim that was not commonly owned at the time a later invention was made in order for the examiner to consider the applicability of 35 U.S.C. 103(c) and potential 35 U.S.C. 102(e), (f) or (g) prior art under 35 U.S.C. 103(a).

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 5, 7, 8 and 18 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gold (US 5,898,294). Regarding claims 5 and 18, the reference does not disclose the priority of switching. However, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have priority to the the protection circuit first so that damage to the entire battery pack could be avoided. Regarding claims 7 and 8, the reference does not disclose the type of switches being used. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to have selected any appropriate switches, since it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice. In re Leshin, 125 USPQ 416.
